

1.7 Selected examples of Etoro's poor customer service and bad reviews.

In November 2020 after previously Claiming buy crypto “Fully Regulated” and later “Fully Regulated Platform”, they decided they had enough users lured in by this false, legally misleading feeling of security and changed text from fully regulated platform to

“ Trusted by Millions”

Web print screen from 05.11.2020

However, comparing their TrustPilot.org reviews to other leading brokers they are a mere 2/5 compared to 4/5 by 3 top brokers, and much of reviews report major problems like blocked or appropriated withdrawals etc. So, truth is, millions joined (13 mln users in 2020) but their trust was quickly failed which is prevalent on Trust Pilot and forum reviews with ever growing evidence how this company ignores customer basic rights (like withdrawal of own funds) and other harmful tactics, (negligence, misrepresentation, account statements manipulation, appropriation of funds, unjust termination etc see my case for details).

1.8. Best evidence of Etoro`s negligence and poor customer service.

Jay on Etoro`s main Website November 2020

Etoros Popular Investor Jay Nemesis confirms openly in forums that he receives over 20 complaints about Etoro daily, that`s 7300 dissatisfied Etoro users a year! Users go to him as they often copy his trades, to find resolution of their problems, because Etoro customer service is ignorant or simply un-just.

Jay also confirms that he receives once a month email from user who`s account was unjustly terminated. "I get an email or DM about this kind of thing once a month". That`s at least 12 Accounts Terminated a year!

Just the accounts that copy James Nemesis, what about other accounts? See another Jay's Reddit post below, confirming scale of Etoro Account Terminations.

So it appears based on the link at the end, and your comments, like you are angry that they terminated an account while you were drawn down, realising your loss. The url linked complained that just a month after their account was terminated with a 150k loss, it regained 70k.

So here are my thoughts:

1. There is nothing illegal here by etoro.
2. If you're investing hundreds of thousands on a website, read the terms and conditions, or pay a lawyer to do it, like you would buying a house.
3. If you got liquidated while drawn down, why not go open the trades again on another platform?

What frustrates me about these complaints, is that they never clearly say what their account situation was, if they used leverage, if they were validated for AML/KYC, if their country changed rules meaning etoro had to terminate them. It's always crying that etoro is a scam while presenting no evidence, just hearsay.

And no, I'm not biased because I'm a PI, but trust me, I get an email or DM about this kind of thing once a month, asking me to help, but they are never willing to share details.

Do you need stronger proof how Etoro is neglecting customers, and unjustly terminating their accounts, than hearing it from their top affiliate?
